SIX DAYS LATER

DEATH OF THE DUKE OF CLARENCE.

London, January, 15th.

We have received from Sir Dighton Probyn the following description of the Duke's last hours and death:—

"Sandringham, Thursday, Jan. 14th.

"After the issue of the evening report of the 13th inst. relating to his Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence there was a decided improvement in his condition, which continued up to 2 a.m. on the 14th, and a reassuring message was sent to the Queen at midnight.

"At 2 a.m. serious collapse came on, which threatened to be immediately fatal, and the members of the Royal Family were summoned to the bedside. His Royal Highness rallied from this attack and regained some degree of consciousness, but after a time it became evident that the rally was only of a temporary character.

"The Reverend F. Hervey, domestic chaplain to the Prince of Wales, was therefore sent for, and read the prayers for the dying in the presence of the assembled family. His Royal Highness gradually sank, and expired peacefully about 9 10 a.m.

"There were present in the room their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, who had never left their son's bedside, Prince George, Princess Louise (Duchess of Fife) and the Duke of Fife, the Princesses Victoria and Maud, the Duke of Teck, Princess Mary Adelaide (Duchess of Teck), Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, together with the three physicians who had been in attendance on his Royal Highness during his illness, and the three nurses."

Her Majesty received early this morning, with the deepest grief the news of the calamity which has befallen her family and the nation at large in the fatal termination of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale's short illness. The Queen was devotedly attached to her beloved grandson, who always evinced the greatest affection torwards her majesty, and whose charming disposition and high character had endeared him to her since his childhood.

Her Majesty, on receiving yesterday the news of the Duke's critical condition, was anxious to proceed at once to Sandringham, but was disuaded from doing so by medical advice.

We regret to have to record the death yesterday morning, in his 84th years, of Cardinal Manning.

The following statement was issued last night from Archibishop's House, Westminster:—With much sorrow I have to inform you that our dearly beloved Cardinal Archbishop died this morning at 8 o'clock. He received the last sacraments yesterday morning, and in the evening made his solemn profession of faith before the Canons of the Chapter. Early this morning his strength began to fail. He received the last blessing; and he joined with great devotion and earnestness in the prayers that were said for him at intervals from 4 o'clock till half-past 7, when he became unconscious. Strengthened by the last rites of the Church and consoled by the blessing of the Holy Father, which came to him in a most affectionate telegram, his Eminence expired most calmly at 8 o'clock, without any agony. The masses of the clergy and the prayers of the congregations and of the religious communities, are earnestly requested for the repose of his soul. May he rest in peace! And may the memory of his holy example remain with us, to stengthen us with the love and faithful service of God!—Daniel Gilbert, Provost." The telegram from the Pope was received at 8 o'clock. It was signed by Cardinal Rampolla, the Secretary of of State, and was in these terms: "The Holy Father and I are profoundly affected at the grave illness of his Eminence Cardinal Manning. We pray to God for his restoration to health. Meanwhile the Holy Father grants to him with all his heart his apostolic blessing."

Bombay, Jan. 14th.

The announcement of the death of the Duke of Clarence was received here with profound regret by Europeans and natives alike, and the deepest sympathy is felt with ths Prince and Princess of Wales and Princess May. Immediately upon the sad news becoming known the bells were tolled and the flags on the Government buildings lowered to half-mast. A garden party, which was being given by the Governor, was brought to an abrupt termination, and this evening every place of public amusemet is closed.—Reuter.

Toronto, Jan. 15th

Reports expressing sorrow and popular sympathy at the death of the Duke of Clarence have been received trom every part of Ontario. Everywhere flags are at half-mast on public buildings and business houses.—Reuter.

Wellington, Jan. 15.

There is great and general regret here at the death of the Duke of Clarence. The New Zealand newspapers this morning publish sympathetic articles and long memoirs. The flags on the Government buildings are at half-mast.—Reuter.

Paris, Jan. 15.

The newspapers to-day express sympathy with the sorrow of the English people in the terrible catastrophe which has stricken the Royal Family in the death of the Duke of Clarence, but agree that his death has little political importance.

New York, Jan. 15.

The tidings of the death of the Duke of Clarence has been received here by the British colony with feelings of unaffected sorrow. Little else is talked of among the large shipping, importing, and banking houses of this city, and the greatest sympathy is expressed for the family of the Princess May of Teck

Paris, Jan. 14th

Several of the papers comment on Cardinal Manning's death. The Clerical Univers speaks of his intervention in the dock strike and of his being considered, even by Protestants, as one of their purest national glories. The Temps describes the cardinal as having preceded the Pope in consideration for the working classes, and as having boldly thrown a Socialist bridge from the people to the Church. His influence must have stood for much in the Pope's recent policy, and his ideas on Ireland were dictated by the same lofty principle—namely, that supreme political skill consists in justice and generosity.

Sydney, Jan. 14th

The news of Cardinal Manning's death has evoked a feeling of regret.

THE ELECTIONS.

The elections, which took place on Sunday, for the renewal of the Chambers were attended with much disorder in certain parishes. The whole city was thrown into alarm by the continuous firing, and residents in the suburbs thought a revolution had broken out, and in fact were almost convinced that such was the case when they heard the heavy guns of the fleet at night. The following are the details:—

San Miguel Parish—Mr. Manuel Cadret presided at the electoral tables. One paper accuses him of questionable conduct during the election. The Radicals mustered in Calle Pieded between Suipacha and Esmeralda; and the Acuerdistas in Calle Suipacha between Piedad and Rivadavia. The police were armed with Remingtons. Somebody fired a shot, which nearly gave rise to a pitched battle. However, nothing occurred, and both parties voted peacefully.

San Telmo Parish—Messrs Castro and Uzal presided. Both Acuerdistas and Radicals voted in peace.

San Nicolas Parish.—Both parties voted peacefully, but the election has been protested, on the ground of the illegality of the proceedings of certain voters.

Monserrat Parish—The election began in a most laughable way, owing to a "changador" presenting himself as Dr. Adolfo Olivares and maintaining in the most cynical and unabashed manner that such was his name. Both parties voted peacefully.

Catedral al Sur Parish — No disorder.

Catedral al Norte Parish.—No disorder. The Radicals, contrary to general expectation, carried the day in this parish.

San Cristobal Parish.—Three men in a drunken condition very nearly gave rise to disturbances. The police and people, however, behaved very well and the election was effected peacefully. Five shots were fired by unknown parties.

Santa Lucia Parish.—In this parish serious disturbances broke out. On the receipt of an order from Judge Tedin for the elimination of 280 names, a heated discussion arose at the electoral tables. The Radicals maintained that the order should be complied with, but the Acuerdistas, in spite of this protest, began to register the votes. Almost immediately a sharp volley was heard. The Radicals were firing from their club. The policemen, taken by surprise, began to run away. The firing increased, although there was no one to fire at, as the tables had been abandoned and the "atrio" of the church was empty. Several people in the streets, however, were wounded. Most of the Radicals ceased firing, laid down their arms, and bolted when they saw the Bomberos approaching. The Bomberos halted in front of the Club and immediately proceeded to burst open the door. Captain Ferreto had a narrow escape. But for Colonel Calaza, who with his sword knocked a Remington out of the hands of a Radical, the young Captain would certainly have been killed. The few Radicals who were found in the Club were immediately arrested. About a dozen persons, mostly policemen, were wounded, some of them mortally. When the disturbances ceased the voting was proceeded with, the Acuerdistas carrying the day by a sweeping majority.

Socorro Parish.—Proceeding began with a heated discussion at the tables. However, no disorder was occasioned by the discussion, and the votes were deposited in the urns in peace. Two citizens were sent to jail for contempt of the tables.

Flores Parish.—After a slight discussion, the committees sat down and the voters were allowed in. The police were in strong numbers. There was a detachment on the roof of the Flores Theatre. The Acuerdistas won easily in this parish.

Balvanera Parish.—The Radical committees began by tearing up the registers, which caused the Acuerdistas to strongly protest. The energetic attitude of the police prevented a row.

Concepcion Parish.—A violent discussion arose at the tables, one of the committee retiring and loudly protesting. About 20 voters signed a protest against the proceedings.

Belgrano Parish.—There were no disturbances, and the only incident was the detention of a tramway by the police, who arrested the passengers. Several voters, who were found to be armed with revolvers and knives, were arrested.

Pilar Parish:—The police were in strong numbers. There were detachments on the roofs of the neighboring houses. A dynamite bomb was taken from a Radical. This circumstance caused considerable indignation. The Radical leader protested in the strongest terms and said that he was not aware that any of his followers possessed such an article.

San Juan Evangelista Parish: Nothing worthy of note occurred during the voting. The voters behaved very well and the police had nothing to do except to look on.

Piedad Parish:—Disturbances broke out in this parish. The police occupied strategic positions on the roofs of houses. The row began through some hot words between one of the committee and the President of the local Radical Club. In the heat of the discussion some one fired a revolver and this was the signal for a general fray. The Acuerdistas fired on the Radicals, the Radicals fired on the police, and the police fired on every one. Four policemen and three citizens were wounded more or less dangerously. An auctioneer, who was looking on, received a bullet through the kidneys and was carried away in dying conditiou. On the removal of the wounded, the voting was proceeded with.

According to the police the following are the results of the elections:—

| Parish | Acuerdistas | Radicals |
|---|---|---|
| Cathedral al Norte... | 227 | 239 |
| Catedral al Sud..... | 177 | 254 |
| San Miguel..... | 175 | 196 |
| San Nicolas..... | 396 | 252 |
| Monserrat..... | 280 | 338 |
| La Piedad..... | 960 | 305 |
| Balvanera..... | 374 | 857 |
| San Cristobal..... | 594 | 628 |
| Socorro..... | 478 | 827 |
| San Telmo..... | 238 | 394 |
| La Concepcion..... | 605 | 625 |
| Santa Lucia..... | 4007 | 11 |
| San Juan Evangelista | 448 | 424 |
| Pilar..... | 680 | 567 |
| Belgrano..... | 336 | 240 |
| Flores..... | 474 | 289 |
| | 7368 | 5941 |

On Sunday night about six hundred Radicals, headed by Dr. Alem and other Radical notabilities, marched through the streets to their club in Calle Cangallo. Several policemen with loaded revolvers endeavored to prevent them entering the club, the result being that the police were overpowered, and the Radicals entered their club, from the balconies of which they fired on a police-officer. But for the interference of the Chief of Police and the President of the Republic, who ordered the withdrawal of the police, the scrimmage that ensued would havn assumed the proportions of a fight "en regle." Strange to say, in spite of all the firing no one was seriously hurt, only two men being slightly wounded.

THE LOSS OF THE JOHN ELDER.

Valparaiso, 23rd January 1892.
John Prain Esq.
Agent Pacific Steam Navigation Co.
Present.

Dear Sir,

As passengers on board the s.s. John Elder when she went on shore near Carranza Point on the morning of the 17th inst., and having commanded ships ourselves for many years partly on this coast, and further, being on deck of said steamer early on the morning of the accident and while the vessel struck and being, therefore, witnesses of what took place until the passengers were landed, we are in a better position to give an opinion and report of the whole circumstances than those who are unacquainted with nautical matters.

We are all the more anxious to do so after seeing the exaggerated, and we may say mainly untruthful, reports which have been published in the newspapers regarding the conduct of Captain Perry and his officers during the trying moments after the stranding of his ship.

As already mentioned, we were on deck before the vessel took the ground and declare that the fog prevented us seeing land, and further we observed Captain Perry on the bridge with his chief officer a short time before the accident, and he was so satisfied with the course steered and the position of his ship that he did not alter the course believing he was as well outside of Carranza Point as he had been on former voyages when he steered a similar course; in fact, he informed us at the time that in view of the fog and probable inset of current he steered on this occasion a wider course from the land than he usually did, and felt very secure in the safety and position of the ship at the time. The sudden and unexpected danger in which at about half past six in the morning he found himself, came so quickly that in our opinion he took the best and most prompt measures to endeavour to save the ship after ascertaining that she was then making no water. After convincing himself that this was impossible he ordered the boats to be got ready, but, as might naturally result in such cases when passengers are in apparent danger, there was no excitement whatever, as might have been expected, and the boats were lowered steadily with one exception, when the fourth officer's hand got entangled in the fall and he nearly lost his hand, this caused a delay to clear the man's hand and one tackle broke, causing one end of the boat to reach the water before the other and occasioning a partial alarm to those in the boat, but this was a momentary affair, and instead of the insubordination and want of foresight and discipline of which the Captain and officers are charged, we hereby protest against this unjust accusation and can testify that everything possible was done under the circumstances to safe life and property; and when it is known that all on board including children, over 200 people, were safely landed on a rocky and unknown beach without loss, this surely must convince any unprejudiced person that the operation was well conducted. We may here state that when the boats left the ship the first intention was to convey them to Constitucion, but a landing place having been discovered they were recalled and landed; this accounts for the report of those not knowing the circumstances that there was no place of landing.

It has been stated that the men got liquor on board and became partially intoxicated. This is a malicious untruth, as we were in a position to observe and affirm that such is not the case; and although several of the men obtained liquor on shore this was brought and sold to them by the country people on shore; but every man left the ship perfectly sober.

We with others naturally feel the position we are placed in by this most unfortunate accident but are thankful that all lives are saved, due in a great measure to the exertions of the officers of the ship, and as before stated in fair play to those officers, we protest against the statements which have appeared to the contrary.

We understand that Captain Perry has demanded a Naval Court of Inquiry into the circumstances of the wreck of his steamer and feel convinced that justice will be done.

We may add that instead of Captain Perry being one of the first to leave the ship he left her in one of the last boats after seeing the passengers embarked Hoping these statements will serve to correct erroneous impressions formed in the public mind.

We are, dear sir,
Your obedt. servants,
William Manzon.
Ship Glencorse.
William Cobb.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

DEATH OF THE KHEDIVE.—THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.—INFLUENZA.—THEATRICALS AND ODDS AND ENDS.

(From our own Correspondent)

Jan. 8th.

The Emperor of Austria, who the last time he spoke of the political prospects of Europe rather alarmed the world, has just reassured us by emphatically supporting the belief in peace lately pronounced by Lord Salisbury. Russia is supposed to be crippled by the famine, by want of funds, and the impossibility of completing the rearming of her troops with repeating rifles and smokeless powder before 1893-94. Meanwhile, the Khedive is attacked by influenza and suddenly dies. His successor, his eldest son Prince Abbas, is a youth of seventeen, but credited with possessing some character and by law entitled to reign without a regency. He has been educated in Europe, and speaks fluently the principal European languages. In any case, the mere change of personnel is a cause of disturbance in the present delicate state of continental relations, but how it will affect European politics in general depends upon the wisdom of the French Government and the fact of Lord Salisbury. Tewfik died only last night, and already the French press declares the event to be a gain to England, and predicts that the boy who succeeds him will be a puppet in the hands of the English. The press in this country, though not prepared with predictions, seems rather to lament the death of the late Khedive as a great loss to British influence in Egypt. The late Khedive though of a quiet disposition was less perhaps of a mere "figure head" or "roi faineant" than some suppose. He had a good deal of common sense and even firmness when required, as M. de Lesseps discovered on one occasion when he endeavoured to bully him into signing a decree by threatening to stay in Alexandria until it was signed. "Then" replied the Khedive, with the greatest good humour, "we shall have the pleasure of seeing M. de Lesseps a permanent resident in Egypt." The late Khedive was a good friend to the English, and had the wit and patriotism to see the enormous benefit to the finances, liberties and prosperity of the Egyptian people that seemed to arise from, or at least since the British occupation. Whether the same benefits can accrue by some other arrangement is the point in dispute between France and England, and though it is too soon to speak with confidence, it can scarcely be denied that the death of Tewfik will bring the question of the British occupation of Egypt into more immediate prominence; and if the French and British Governments act wisely, the opportunity will be seized of settling that question to the common satisfaction of the two nations. The present French administration is a great stickler for technicalities and, contrary to the general view in the first instance, M. Ribot has gained golden opinions from the European Chancelleries for his management of his dispute with the Bulgarian Government. M. Ribot affects to retire from the subject on the plea that the protection of the French journalist in question was not so much a point, as to remind the Bulgarian Government that it was not wholly independent of Turkey, and that the capitulations were still in force. In the same way M. Ribot may again remind Lord Salisbury that the Sultan is sovereign, not suzerein, in Egypt and that the British occupation in regard to duration must be more clearly defined.

You yourselves are often amused at the geographical errors made in the English press in regard to the River Plate countries. You will appreciate the following paragraph from a lecture on the Kingdom of Hawaii, read before the Southport Literary and Philosophical Society by Theo H. Davies, Esq., late British Vice-Consul at Honolulu. He says:—"The points which appear to be most firmly held in some parts of England regarding the Hawiian or Sandwich Islands are—that Tahiti is one of them, that they are somewhere in the South seas, and that they must have suffered terribly in the Samoan hurricane. One of my friends was recently urged by an affectionate lady friend not to venture out to Honolulu as long as the Chilian civil war made foreign travel in those parts so dangerous."

Mr. Davies' illustration rather suggests the theory that the inhabitants of relatively small countries are bad geographers. For example, Tahiti, Hawaii and Chile are all in the Pacific, the immensity of which is not comprehended by the average English mind; while the relative size of the British Isles compared with the rest of the world is absurdly exaggerated by the natives.

It is perfectly obvious, as Buckle used to teach, that small countries hemmed in by sea and mountain are the first to be civilised and are the best governed. The history of Great Britain in Australia and North America is only partially exceptional, whilst Russia is what may be called a living instance of the truth of the theory. The glitter of a Russian monarch and military aristocracy in European uniforms is very much like an African King in a cocked hat. "There is no famine in my empire," the Great White Tsar is reported to have said recently in reply to the cries of his famishing subjects. The Emperor may have been deceived by his subordinates or his reply may have been influenced by policy. In either case it was the reply of a barbarian ruling barbarians. It must be confessed that with all the modern advantages of an active European press and of steam and electricity, it has taken a long time for western Europe to ascertain the truth in respect to the famine in Russia. Correspondents and commissioners sent to South Eastern and Eastern Russia by the European press, and by such philanthrophic communities as that of the Quakers in England, have at length made their reports, and eye witnesses of the sufferings of the people in Russia have returned. There is no longer any doubt. If Mr. Brooks, the English Quaker Commissioner, is not deceived in his travelling experiences in the regions east of the Wolga, twenty millions of our fellow creatures in Russia are starving or on the verge of starvation. To relieve their wants will require more than the 25 millions roubles set apart for that purpose by the Russian Government, and according to M. Brooks 250 millions will be needed. Last year there was no harvest at all in South Eastern Russia. The crops were all scorched, the grass and the very leaves on the trees were burnt up. Presently when seed is required, where is it to come from? Where the famine is most terrible is in the Governments of Samora, Saratoff, Kazan and Perm. In the two latter there is no railway communication and no means of communication with the places from whence supplies might arrive. To add to the difficulties the Volga is now frozen over.

It is to the credit of the Russian Government, court and officials, that although no direct assistance was given to foreign commissioners and correspondents, they have been received with great courtesy and hospitality and sent forward from one place to another with high letters of recommendation. The poor creatures in the suffering provinces are said to look with child-like hope to England for relief, and it is added by the commissioners, with a faith in humanity almost as childlike, that nothing would draw the two nations together in brotherly amity so much as the offer of substantial relief from this country. Independently of political motives we may be quite certain that after the report of the commissioners sent by the Society of Friends and the reports of correspondents of German newspapers, that England will subscribe largely to the "Famine Fund" to be administered by Count Tolstoi. The accounts you will see in the Times and other paper of the famine in Russia and of the Tolstoi fund, that are dexterously made to appear as letters from correspondents of those papers, are, it is fair to state, communications made through Baron Reuter's agency.

Nice seasonable weather in London. Some snow, some frost, some clear skies and some fog, and always jolly cold. The people flock to the theatres, caring little about the weather. We pack up our dear children in woollen wraps and send them night after night to fancy balls and pantomimes whilst influenza invades the city and the rate of mortality has risen from 22 to 42 per thousand. The increase in the rate does not as yet arise from influenza, but mostly from measles and whooping cough. There is a difficulty in registration always at this season, and the real average of the death rate for two weeks is 32, which is very high and of course includes the direful Christmas week, when London was in darkness and women who had to go about their domestic errands in the black fog were said to have had fits of reaching in the streets. We have had some serious fires and fatal railway accidents, but after all the thing to do is to see "Henry VIIIth" at the Lyceum. Some of my friends are fortunate enough to be booked for the Lyceum for some night at the end of February. Others tell me they are secure for March. Fellows who got in on the first night to the pit took their breakfasts and dinners with them. Through the kindness of the manager tea was served from a "pub" in the covered entrance you all know, and perhaps you know the "pub." Meanwhile, you will read the accounts of the scenery and costumes. The whole affair cost £15,000. The realism of a street in Westminster 300 years ago, with a glimpse of the then limpid Thames, is no doubt exquisite, and dazzling must be the blaze of scarlet of the great Cardinal and his train. A gorgeous spectacle and worthy of Shakespeare, as he is spoke at the end of the 19th century.

Just at present I shall have more chance of getting in at the Lyric, to see or hear, or see and hear, the Gilbert-Cellier opera "The Mountebanks," in which clocks make love to each other much as Swiss organ dolls used to do in the earliest of Parisian "operas bouffes." Gilbert in the new piece is said to be at his best, but poor Cellier's music is thought too serious. He had not the versatility or wit of Sullivan, who just understands that sort of thing and his public. Sullivan, by the way, like Cowen, is a Jew, and proud of the distinction. He looks it: small, dark, compact and refined. Again this Christmas the pantomimes make a poor show, and are slowly expiring. The best theatres carry on their ordinary business, and even produce new dramas of importance, which would not have been thought of at this season a few years ago.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The Queen province had an easy time of it on Sunday at the elections. The Saenz Peñistas had it all their own way, as their political adversaries did not vote. There was therefore no disorder. The most charming unanimity prevailed. Never has the province witnessed a more peaceful election. In Zarate, the townspeople thought a revolution had broken out here, as the garrison there received orders to take the train and come down here. The artillery was dragged to the station, and amidst general alarm the soldiers began to take places in the train, when a telegram arived from the War-Minister ordering the soldiers and their guns back to their quarters, a step which considerably relieved the anxiety of the good people of Zarate. The police were in very strong number in all the towns of the province. People of a peaceful turn of mind—and their name is legion—kept away from the urns and passed the day in their houses. It is quite refreshing to read the sterotyped phrase in every telegram from the provincial towns of Buenos Ayres: "no hubo oposicion". The opposition were taking a siesta at the time of the voting. "A vaincre sans peril, on triomphe sans glorie".

A telegram received from Corrientes yesterday reports a barbarous crime. Mr. Nievas, a well known and wealthy citizen, was murdered in his house in the most central part of the city. The body had received no less than 32 stabs. This savage crime is, we presume, in some way connected with the elections.

There were no disturbauces reported yesterday from the Interior. The official party seems to have had it pretty well all its own way. As a matter of fact, there are no Radical elements in the provinces, excepting Mendoza and perhaps Entre Rios. In the former no elections took place on Sunday, as they have been suspended by special decree. They come off on Sunday next, and we trust there will be no heads broken. Considerable excitement seems to have prevailed in San Luis, where the authorities managed in the usual way to assemble quite a respectable number of voters. The San Luis Governor is at present in Buenos Ayres, but he appears to have been ably—from an electoral point of view—replaced by the vice-Governor. His Excellency up there got it into his head that a revolution was being prepared. So he assembled the police and armed a number of queer fellows, and thus struck terror into the Valientes Puntanos, who very probably had no intention whatever of kicking up a row.

The Radicals have been thoroughly beaten in the provinces. The Acuerdistas have won all along the line. Out of 85 seats, the Acuerdistas have won 75. Even in Rosario, the Radicals made no effort to oppose the Nacionales or Acuerdistas. They did not even go to the polls. Nevertheless, Rosario is in a state of alarm, and there are queer rumors flying about. Political animosity is running very high. Several Radicals were attacked in a restaurant and about 30 shots fired at them. As usual, no one was hurt. The police are under arms every night. In a few days Rosario will settle down to business again and forget all about these political differences which cause so much noise and alarm.

Our La Plata exchanges contain the terrible particulars of a murder committed there on Saturday night. A gentleman named Lopez who lived with his wife in the upper story of the building occupied by the Fomento Territorial, was awakened late on that night by loud knocking at the hall-door. He jumped out of bed, arming himself with a knife, opened the door, and discovered that a friend had come to bid him good-bye. Lopez expressed surprise and said something to hurt the feelings of his midnight visitor, by name Bazerque. Sharp words were exchanged. It soon came to blows. In the meantime the wife, hearing the noise, came downstairs, and seeing her husband fighting, caught him by the shoulder. Lopez gave a thrust with his knife over his shoulder, struck her in the neck and cut the carotid artery. His wife fell to the ground. Feeling himself freed, he then gave chase to Bazerque, who had run away, but could not reach him. So he returned, and to his horror discovered that the person who had caught him by the shoulder was his wife, whom he had killed.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

The British Hospital receives patients (paying and free) from all parts of this Republic, and also from ships in port.

The managing Committee is composed of the British Consul, clergymen, and merchants, and the hospital is deservedly popular with all classes of English-speaking people, very many of whom have experienced the benefit of good medical treatment and nursing by trained English nurses.

The accommodation in the hospital is now inadequate to the requirements of the English-speaking community, and the necessity of enlargement is urgent.

This necessity of enlargement has, unfortunately, come at a bad moment, when the whole community is suffering from the financial crisis, therefore the Committee, while acknowledging the generosity of the resident British and Americans, are obliged to appeal to all those whose business relations give them an interest in this country.

That the Bazaar may be a decided success the Committee appeal to the generosity of their Countrymen, and expect they will respond by sending donations of samples of their own goods, and the Committee will take special care that the name of the firm shall be prominently brought before the Public in connection with the donations, which will be a good and graceful way of advertising the goods, and they are convinced that donors will benefit by thus advertising, besides having the satisfaction of aiding a really good, useful institution.

The Committee will also thankfully accept contributions of all sorts of pretty and useful articles.

It is expected that all contributions will be admitted duty free by Government, and Messrs. Lamport and Holt have kindly offered to bring them freight free.

Yours faithfully
John Drysdale,
President.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Accountant of the N. R. Board reported last week on the guarantee account of the Transandine Railway. The amount due by the State under that heading is £19,490, for the half-year ending August 22, last. The line enjoys a 7 per cent guarantee. The Accountant stated that owing to the fact that the account contained no certificate of any sum reimbursed to the State, he could not advise the Board to accept the account. At the same time he called the attention of the Board to the following statements of the working of the line:—

| | Returns. | Expenses. |
|---|---|---|
| | $ | $ |
| February.. | 1337 | 2049 |
| March .... | 8833 | 6995 |

This shews a loss of $712 for February and a net earning of $1,883 for March last year. The Company never forwarded the statements for the other months, so that the Accountant could not say how much the Company owe the State.

Now, in reply to the foregoing, the local Board of the Railway in question have sent a note to Government stating that they cannot deposit 45 per cent of the returns to the order of the Treasury, for tho simple reason that the working of the line shews a deficit of $34,374.

The N. R. Board have proposed Don Agustin Camelino as cashier for the Central Northern Railway.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"Thank heaven it's over" was the general exclamation yesterday in reference to the election, a summary of the results of which will be found in another column. The children of Mammon, in their Temple assembled, hailed the upshot with a considerable "slump" in the gold premium. The aspect of the city all day on Sunday was a repetition of what was witnessed during the three days of the July revolution: shops and hall-doors of private houses closed, or held ready to close in a moment; the inmates venturing out on the footway now and then to see what was going on; streets deserted; no hack carriages to be had for love or money, and dead silence everywhere, except in the vicinity of the churches, where matters were noisy enough. The general verdict on the conduct of the police is that it was good and marked by great forbearance, though a good many unnecessary arrests were made here and there.

There is at present among us a Red Cross Knight in the person of Sir Vincent Barrington, who had a narrow escape on Sunday during the "refriega" in Calle Cangallo, while trying to do something for the wounded. He adds, however, with much pleasure that the police shewed him great courtesy.

We have to thank Captain Rigaud, of the Magdalena, for London papers of 15th ult., with particulars of the death of the Duke of Clarence. The mails by the Magdelena were landed at Flores Island by order of the authorities, and will be here, it is hoped, this morning.

The Regatta at Montevideo on Sunday was a fiasco, as the men-of-war boats did not compete. The U.S.S Yorktown is expected to-day to join Admiral Walker's squadron, which has received orders to remain where it is till the Chilian muddle is "clean settled." The shopkeepers at the Mount are jubilant at this as, one way or another the squadron has spent $200,000 gold since its arrival there.

The programme for the concert at the English Institute in Barracas to night is splendid and we recommend all who can to attend it.

The drought in Banda Oriental has become very serious. Several camp fires that made roast beef of herds of cattle are reported in Maldonado department.

The Public Works Board advise the Minister of the Interior to sue the Banco Constructor for damages and breach of contract for not finishing the Comisarias and other public edifices it undertook to build. "Que esperanza!" Get blood out of a turnip if you can.

The numerous friends of Mr. Malcolm Graham C. E., who is so widely known and respected in this country, will rejoice to hear that the report of his death on board the R.M.S. Clyde off Bahia, first published by the Telegrafo Maritimo of Montevideo, is all a mistake, with which there is connected a romance worthy of Miss Braddon's inventive genius: Our friend Mr. Malcolm was at school with another Malcolm Graham who was by no means a good boy. Sometimes the right M. G. was punished, sometimes the wrong one. The man who died on board the Clyde went as engineer to the Linares lead mines in Spain, while our friend was Resident Engineer at the Rio Tinto mines in the same country. In 1880, when Mr. Graham came here, an Englishman disappeared from Madrid under circumstances that compelled the Spanish police to look for him. The London detectives were put on his track also, and Mr. Graham's family suffered much annoyance from them owing to the similarity of name: but they utterly failed to find the man whose remains now lie in the Bom Despacho Cemetery at Bahia. He died on board the Clyde in a fit of delirium tremens.

In our article on the Import Trade in Sunday's issue there was an error which our proof-reader is pleased to call "clerical," but we cannot quite agree with him: Tons for "gallons" in the import of olive oil has nothing clerical about it that we can see.

We understand that Mr. E. M. Satow, Her Majesty's Minister to B. Oriental, has arrived in the Magdalena.

Our English contemporary in Montevideo makes the excellent suggestion that the Winter Evenings Entertainment Society should do what all unmarried ladies are supposed to be anxious to do, viz, change its name at once, to Summer Days Enjoyment Society, and go on pleasant excursions like the English Literary Society here. We beg to second the motion, as nothing could possibly conduce more to changes of name amongst the fair sex than such pleasant trips.

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Monday, Feb. 8th.

The result of yesterday's elections produced an excellent effect upon the market, reflected in a heavy fall in gold. The results of the voting shew that the conciliation party has triumphed all over the country, except in the province of Buenos Ayres, where the Government party carried everything before it. It remains now to be seen if the Radical Party will swallow the bitter pill of defeat, acknowledge its impotence, and refrain from revolutionary agitation. The Radical Party has been defeated everywhere, a pretty clear proof that it does not rely on the votes of the people or on the vote of public opinion. Yet, there are many who maintain that the Radicals will continue their propaganda and keep up the spirit of resistance.

Talking of yesterday's elections, it strikes one forcibly that a very small fraction of electors attended the polls; there could be no doubt that the threats of certain parties and the war-material accumulated at the churches frightened very many 'conservative' elements away. This may explain how the Radicals won the day in such parishes as Catedral al Norte—the great Mitrista or Acuerdista headquarters in this city. The wonder is that the Radicals did not carry the day everywhere, for the process of intimidation was effective in very many quarters. But for the wholesale voting of Santa Lucia parish, where the Roquista element is preponderant, the Radicals would have won the day, and the fact does not reflect much credit on the voters of the Acuerdo party.

On 'Change the triumph of the conciliation party was greeted by a heavy fall in gold. We for our part believe that if the Radicals had won the elections, the gold market would have fallen quite as heavily. About fifteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring: the price opened at 862, fell steadily to 60.80, and closed at 61, say 2744 % premium. Two thousand sovereigns were sold at $19 to 18.95, closing at 18.90, say 275 % premium. The market closed weak and heavy.

When the gold market opened this morning opinions were very divided; many believed that yesterday's triumph was a kind of Pyrrhic victory for the conciliation party, in fact a moral defeat. It was only later in the day that Bolsa opinions began to consider the result as a sweeping majority in favour of conciliation, and then followed a heavy fall in gold. One would suppose that too much importance is attached to political influences on the speculation. All appear to forget that many other influences are at work to put up or put down the price of gold. One of the most powerful factors in the gold market must necessarily be the issue of paper money, yet the whole market is prepared to see the Banco de la Nacion Argentina issue millions of shinplasters and pays little heed to the effect of such indiscriminate tampering with the currency. The issue of paper money is far more disastrous than electoral rows.

The R.M.S. Magdalena is in the river: she brings a heavy consignment of sovereigns and a heavy batch of new banknotes for the Banco de la Nacion Argentina. If we look at the rate of exchange, we must confess that it would have been better if the gold had been left in England; with regard to the banknotes it would be better for this country if they had never been printed. The gold will go back as fast as it has come, but the banknotes will remain and depreciate still more the unfortunate currency. The issue of paper may afford some temporary relief, but the damaging effect must soon be felt in a heavy rise in the gold premium; the wonder is that the market overlooks this.

Another important feature in the market is the drooping state of exchange at a moment when exports should be in full swing and bills plentiful. Meantime, we see exports paralyzed and bills scarce. A comparatively large sterling business was done on Saturday between two banks at 48¼d. on London, about 40,000£. Rates to-day opened weak—the rate on London was quoted at 48 to 48¼d. Francs were done at 5.09. Unless produce begins to move off, the supply of bills were lodged in the walls opposite. The windows of the Creamery and of McClea's grocery shop were pierced, but nobody was hurt at the time. Later in the evening the Remingtons of the police took effect and wounded several people in the balconies of the Radical Club. Mr. Melton Prior was descending the stairs of the Radical Club as the row began, and was fired at repeatedly in the street and in the balcony from which he witnessed the fray. We are glad to state that no leading banker, merchant or broker was injured during the affair, as they wisely kept indoors and left all the patriotic work to literary men, lame ducks, guttersnipes and outsiders in general. The money circle kept aloof, as usual.

Business at the second hour was very dull, but there was a break back in the gold market which relieved the monotony of affairs. Ounces opened in a fainting state at 60.60, but it soon transpired that not a cent of gold could be had on time, and this putting fresh vigor into the bullish efforts the price rose steadily to 61.20, at which it closed firm. In stocks the usual "bagatelle" was done.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

The ordinary annual meeting of shareholders of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata came off to-day. The hall was crowded with shareholders. The report of the Board was read and approved, including a dividend of 4$ gold per share and 1.60$ per certificate. Messrs. W. Samson and Bianchi put some questions, the answers to which shewed that the Bank is doing a safe and sound business at present. The following gentlemen were elected to fill the Board: Messrs. A. Demarchi, G. Lavarello, H. Panzini, and L. Tamini. Mr. Ambrosetti was elected Sindico with salary on a par with that of Director on the Board. The following is the balance-sheet of the Bank: we must reserve the report of the Board for our next issue.

We hear that the Old Gas Company will declare a dividend next month.

The Government has appointed Don Domingo Frias to-day Director of the National Bank.

The Government have authorised Messrs. Andment to load and unload wheat at the Bajada Grande, on the Parana.

The London Standard of 14th ult. says:—

"Upwards of £300,000 in gold was withdrawn from the Bank for Buenos Ayres, but the net outflow for the week is under £200,000, apart from provincial operations. More specie will probably be sent to Argentina, the present estimate being about £1,000,000, to be despatched in instalments over the rest of the quarter. Exports from the Republic, especially of wool, are still large, while imports from Europe have been greatly reduced. But during the same period the central institution will receive, it is believed, about $5,000,000, on balance, in revenue payments, and hence a large addition to the reserve may be looked for. There is also a somewhat increased inquiry for bullion on German account, in response to yesterday's decline in the exchange."

The returns of the Custom House to-day amounted to

In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 15 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17-73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7-93. ## EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infallible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.

Excepcional Remate de

2.000 Esplendidas Vacas Durham, mestizas

con novillada y con 30 toros padres puros, procedentes del renombrado establecimiento "Miraflores," propiedad del Señor Don Exequiel Ramos Mejias. El remate tendra lugar en las inmediaciones de la estacion Julio Arditi (F. C. de la Magdalena)

El Domingo 21 de Febrero

a la 1 de la tarde

Las vacas que ofrecemos en venta son especialisimas y pocas veces se presentan ocasiones como estas de hacerse de inmejorables planteles.

Estas haciendas proceden de un rodeo de vacas mestizas que formó a eleccion el Sr. Ramos Mejia y cuyos novillos se han vendido siempre a precios muy elevados, habiendose obtenido hasta 100 pesos cada uno.

Hace muchos años que estas vacas se han reproducido con toros puros de inmejorable sangre y anualmente se han hecho depuraciones y limpiezas, dejando solo lo muy bueno y sacando lo inferior para consumo o para venta.

Los 30 toros son puros por cruzamiento, pues tienen 50 años de mestizacion, siempre con inmejorables reproductores de las buenas cabañas de Inglaterra.

La venta será en lotes para planteles al gusto de los interesados.

Un tren expreso saldra de la Estacion Central a las 10.25 a.m. regresando una vez concluido el remate. Mas datos a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.
